Student Committee Picks Next Year's Attractions

A tentative schedule of next year's lecture series was completed April 14. Mrs. Venetta Stappler, Dean of Women, and a student council committee consisting of Laurene Hayes, Judi Hamilton and Paul Cox, chose the participants.

Opening the series in October will be Helen Kirkpatrick of San Francisco who will speak on economics. Mrs. Kirkpatrick's views have won her a reputation as a keen political observer.

In November Malcolm Muggeridge, Britain's witty social critic, will compare British and American ways of life.

In January William Hines, the Washington Star science editor, will express views on current science happenings.

Two lectures are scheduled for February: Sir Charles Arden-Clarke, a former British Colonial Administrator in Africa and Governor General of the Gold Coast, will speak on current political issues at an evening program; and Jorgen Bisch will present a colored film, "Ulu - World's End" on explorations made in Outer Mongolia and Boreno.

The final speech will be presented by Fiore de Henriquez, sculptress, who will demonstrate the carving of a head, using as her model a member of the audience.

The committee has tried to select a program which provides a variety of subjects of special interest which also have a general appeal.

The cost of the entire series is estimated at $2,500.

Student Leaders Meet To Discuss Activities

Student leaders, most of them members of the regular been holding Monday evening meetings for the last two weeks in an attempt to improve activity environment at CBC for next year.

Subjects discussed include attendance at council meetings, elections, and the possibility of a bi-cameral student government legislature. The latter would require a constitutional change.

The bi-cameral system the students recommend would consist of a club council besides the council in its present form.

Women Analyzed By Skagit Paper

The following article was taken from the Skagit Valley College paper, The Cardinal.

Symbol: W2 O3 W2
Accepted Atomic Weight: 20 and or — ?

Occurrence: Wherever man is found in the seldom free state.

Physical Properties: Boils at nothing and may freeze at anytime. Melts when properly heated.

Chemical Properties: Very active and of varying density. Possesses a great affinity for gold, diamonds, and other precious metals. Reacts violently when left alone. Turns green when placed beside a better specimen. Ages rapidly.

Uses: Highly ornamental, useful as a tonic for low spirits. Facilities equal distribution of wealth and is probably the most powerful (income) reducing agent in the world.

Caution: Highly explosive when in borrowed hands.

Hank Coplen Resigns Post

Hank Coplen's three-year junior college coaching career came to an end when the Hawk's head basketball mentor handed in his resignation Tuesday. Coplen has accepted a job as a teacher, head basketball coach, and football line coach at Snohomish High School.

Coplen, who teaches P.E. and Health at CBC, compiled an overall 50 wins, 25 losses as he led CBC to two state titles in three years. He also serves as assistant baseball coach to Len Pyne.

Before coaching at CBC Coplen taught at Garfield, Oddessa, and Cashmere. Although Coplen enjoyed junior college, he says he will be glad to get back to the high school level, where he is seeking an administrative job.

It is not immediately known who his successor shall be.

CBC Will Hold Olympic Meet

In an attempt to raise money to contribute to the Summer Olympic Games in Rome, Columbia Basin College has laid plans to sponsor the first annual CBC Olympic Relays April 30.

Andy Drengson is currently heading a committee to raise funds to support the Olympic Games. The committee has decided to hold a track meet in Pasco Saturday, April 30 at 6:30 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults, 50c for high school students with ASB cards, and CBC students are admitted free.

Others on the committee include Judi Hamilton, publicity; and Bobbie Burke, tickets.

The University of Idaho, WSU, CWCE, EWCE, Whitworth, Yakima Junior College, Wenatchee Junior College, Eastern Oregon College of Education, and Lewis and Clark Normal have been invited.

Speaker Due

Dr. James H. M. Boyce, Jr., professor of sociology at Washington State University, will speak in the CBC lounge Sunday, May 1, at 2 p.m. on "A New Dimension in Human Rights."

Dr. Boyce will discuss the dynamic changes taking place in the South and in South Africa, and the problems of social action involved.

His talk will be sponsored by the social relations commission of the Pasco First Methodist Church.

Boyce has also taught in the University of Lahore in western Pakistan and has served as a consultant with UNESCO.

The public is invited.

Women To Tea

The Women's A.W.S. council has planned it's annual spring tea for May 12 at 2 p.m. in the student lounge.

Committee heads have been appointed to handle the Mother's Day Tea. They are: general chairman, Yvonne King; publicity, Suzi Seeburger and Linda Yamauchi; refreshments, Carol Burkett; invitations, Barbara Horton; entertainment, Irene Smith and Darlene Peterson; favors, Dee Miller and Marilyn Stork; style show, Sandy Hesselman; and hostess, George-Ann Jones. M.C. for the show will be Suzi Seeberger.

Gov. Rosellini To Speak At CBC Graduation

Governor Albert Rosellini will be the guest speaker at the graduation of CBC's Sophomore class on May 29, according to Mrs. Venetta Stappler, sophomore class advisor.

Among the plans for graduation ceremonies are the combination baccalaureate and graduation which will be held outside in the area between the bookstore and the secretarial studies classrooms.

The graduates will also be honored at a "Graduation Ball" which will be sponsored by the freshman class on May 28.

Chorus To Present Musical Program

The Columbia Basin College music department will present a spring concert May 4, at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

The concert, to be held in the CBC lounge, will feature the CBC chorus and string quartet, followed by a fifteen-piece dance band, a male quartet, the Desert Tones, a violin and a trumpet solo.

The recently organized "Fife and Jug Band" will perform at the concert. The CBC band will play Duke Ellington's "Caravan" and Louis Armstrongs' "Strutting at Some Barbecue," completing the program with a medley of Vincent Youmans numbers.

Honor Society Elections Held

Don Eisenbarth was elected president of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society at an election held April 12.

Other officers elected were: Jim Jacobs, vice president; Connie Loftus, secretary; James Raney, treasurer; and Alice Clark, historian.

Present officers of the Honor Society are: Ron Richeson, president; Jesse Mast, vice president; Nancy Shenefelt, secretary; Stan Cole, treasurer; and Janet Tidrick, historian.

Letters to the Editor

Every now and then, a bold headline in the daily paper shocks us all into a sudden reaction. This was true a few weeks ago when it was found that a training manual used by one of our armed forces reserve groups referred to "infiltration of fellow-travelers into churches." Whether this training manual is the proper place for such a statement is debatable. But no one today should be shocked at the statement itself. The truth is that the Communist enemy has engaged us on many fronts at once. The enemy has attempted to use many kinds of intellectual and cultural activities, including education, science, literature, art, religion, and government.

Communism is called, by its own followers, a "philosophy in action." As a philosophy, it is characterized by a basic attitude of uncompromising hostility to all non-Communist societies and the ideas held in them. The United States is the most powerful among the nations not yet under its sway. The United States thus finds itself under attack by an enemy whose motive for hostility is not any practical grievance or limited aspiration but rather the basic will to destroy the order of life in the United States in order to make room for a Communist rule.

This attack differs so much from the normal pattern of relations between nations or political groups within nations that many people fail to grasp the full extent of the threat. Having rejected God, having discarded any notions of good that men as such have in common, having proclaimed the class struggle as the basic reality, the Communists believe the future is inevitably Communist.

How do we combat communism? It is the vital task of educators to transmit to their students the vision and the challenge of our way of life, a philosophy which holds sacred the dignity of the individual. Men and women in the field of religion must play a more vital role because communism is fanatically opposed to religion.

Americans are assured that all three branches of the Federal Government, legislative, administrative, and judicial, are very much aware of the devious methods by which the Communist movement attempts to gain a strangle-hold on our Nation. The Government has made great strides in combating the ever-shifting tactics of communism, as attested to by the commendable work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

By letting responsible groups like these take leadership in the fight against Communist infiltration, we can avoid the danger of "witch-hunting" and irresponsible statements which harm innocent individuals and organizations. Our job at the citizen level is to first of all recognize communism by learning its true nature and tactics, because ignorance of communism in all its aspects is our most dangerous weakness.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, has said of the fight against communism, "It has to begin with you, for only when every citizen learns the truth about communism can we become impervious to its menace."

Editor Speaks

Election days are here again, this time for next years A.S.C.B.C. officers. As a media of communication, supposedly with some power to provoke thought, the Collegiate is appealing to the students to use reason in selecting student leaders.

All council positions should be filled with responsible, hard-working people who are willing to give up at least an hour of each day to make CBC a college that each student will be proud to attend.

Personality - plus is not a qualification for office unless it is accompanied by some brain-power and willingnesss on the part of the candidate to fulfill the requirements of office.

Offices in student council are jobs; they are not glory-hound positions.

Fifty thousand dollars, and sometimes more, is spent yearly by the council. Allotting budgets, supervising expenditures, working in committees, enlarging ideas, promoting activities, these are things which councilmen must be doing and doing well throughout the year.

Dear Editor,

It is not too often that one has occasion to be embarrassed for the institution one represents, but the recent performance of French actor Marcel Hillaire, sponsored by the Associated Students, provided such an occasion.

Hardly anyone came.

Perhaps better publicity would have helped.

Admittedly, had the student body turned out the composition of the audience would have been altered to such a degree that the show would have lost much of its appeal. It would probably have been over the heads of most. It does seem that out of an enrollment of almost 900, more than five or ten might be found who would appreciate an evening of excellent entertainment.

A man whose talents are such as to be in demand in Hollywood (to mention but one place)—he has played in "Ninotchka," "Sabrina," Phil Silvers' Show—might reasonably expect to draw an audience when he goes on the road, even in Pasco, and the size of the audience was embarrassing to those who attended. The evening was one of the most pleasant this writer has spent for a long time.

"Solomon and Sheba," the Biblical classic, is slated soon for the Tri-Cities. It is the story of the destruction of the King of Israel, led by his love for the pagan Queen of Sheba. A sure tear-jerker, it stars Yul Brynner as Solomon, and Gina Lollobrigida as Sheba.

Rating ★★★

Also coming to the Tri-Cities soon is the story of one of America's greatest jazz drummers, Gene Krupa. "The Gene Krupa Story," stars Sal Mineo, Susan Kohner and James Darren. This is the second time Kohner and Mineo have performed together.

Tired Tire Trouble Trails Track Team

CBC track men were the victims of a series of misfortunes when their car developed tire trouble on their return from Moscow, Idaho.

A flat tire in the desolate country between Dodge and Dayton caused the trackmen some concern when they discovered their spare had a large section of rubber missing from its face. The team members thumped along on the spare for a few miles to a "gas pump" where they were able to obtain a can of patches, but no tire service.

One of the trackmen, C. W. Brown, then displayed his tire changing know-how by laying the flat on the ground and running over it a few times with the car to loosen the tire from the rim.

The tube had been ripped to shreds and a second tube which happened to be in the car had more holes than the team members had patches.

At this point Coach Sig Hansen brought his diplomatic powers into play and managed to borrow a tire, from a local farmer, on which the men drove on into Dayton where they had their tire repaired and left the other tire for the farmer to pick up later.

Several of the team have avowed that hereafter they will give the tires a thorough physical before they leave CBC again.

Hawks Triumph; Brown Sherlock Lead Victors

By Dennis McGraw

Coach Sig Hansen's two-man wrecking crew, Warren Sherlock and C. W. Brown, continued their winning ways as they led the Hawks to victory in a triangular meet with Yakima and Wenatchee in Pasco Saturday.

Brown cleared six feet in the high jump and 12' 6" in the pole vault to capture two first places, he also grabbed a third in the broad jump.

Sherlock clipped a CBC record in the 220 when his 21.8 topped Gary Whitmire's 22.1 of last year. Sherlock also ran a winning leg of the mile relay with Skeet Correa, Dave Clutinger and Garry Watson.

Larry Hayes took first in the mile and two mile; Watson took first in the 440, and Dallas Barnes won the javelin.

Haener, Morris, Devore, Arledge, Reiland, Hankins, and Craig also grabbed points for the Hawks. The latter three teamed with Brown to give the Hawks a clean sweep in the pole vault.

CBC totaled 72½ points to 61½ for Yakima and 21 for Wenatchee.

CBC Crooner Enjoys Success

By Dennis McGraw

A smooth style and an easy-going sound has propelled CBC singer, Keith Colley, to wide-spread popularity around the Tri-Cities area.

Colley, 19, a freshman from Connell, Wash., has made several successful appearances in the Tri-City area with his instrumental background, "The Corvaires." After only four public appearances in the past two weeks, plus a tape-recording by Colley of "Teenager in Love," which has been heard on KPKW for the past few weeks, Colley has received many offers from the public to play locally.

"The Corvaires" have scheduled coming appearances as follows: the Pasco Community Center, May 6; KNBS TV, May 7; and a dance at CBC following the television debut that night. Colley adds that the group is for hire any time after that.

Included in "The Corvaires" are: his brother, Ronnie, on the drums; Stan Cole of CBC on the saxaphone; Larry Coryell of Richland on guitar; and Don Eshelby of Pasco on piano. Colley also plays the guitar while singing.

Described as "150 pounds of talent" by Lynn Bryson, local DJ, Keith has a musical background which dates back to his junior year in high school. Since that time Keith has become an apt performer on the guitar, piano, trumpet, and drums. In the summer of 1959 Keith was in Chicago where he played drums for a song he wrote, "Purple Crackle," that was recorded by Jimmy Jeffers on a Target label.
